Key Takeaways:

- Increased need for IPRs. With an increasing focus on innovation, cross-border research and collaboration, it is necessary to learn about intellectual property rights in order to protect innovation among students.
- IPRs help the innovators to protect and sustain them in the market. If the inventions are patented and used to trade for beginners, it will provide a competitive edge for designers and entrepreneurs.

Conclusion:

Intellectual property rights face unprecedented challenges in the digital age, stemming from the proliferation of online platforms, digital piracy, and emerging technologies. However, innovative solutions abound, ranging from technological advancements such as DRM systems and AI algorithms to legal frameworks and international collaborations. Moreover, fostering a culture of respect for intellectual property and empowering creators are integral components of addressing these challenges effectively. By adopting a multifaceted approach that leverages technology, policy, and education, we can navigate the complexities of the digital landscape and safeguard intellectual property rights for generations to come.

Brief Report:	Workshop on Research Design and Planning Market Fit: Institution's Innovation Council - Narsimha Reddy Engineering College Organized the event on 16th September 2023 in collaboration with mechanical Engineering department. The resource person Dr. M. Shashi Professor, Department of Civil engineering NIT Warangal was welcomed and introduced by IIC President Dr. Dr. Dileep Kumar Reddy Pallala. During an hourly session, the event delivered what it had promised: Discussion on key aspects of product-market fit like defining the value-proposition, product feature set, creating and testing the product prototype with the customers. Dr. M. Shashi started the webinar or workshop by listing top ten common startup mistakes. He then discussed the starting point of finding the product-market fit like what is the problem like, who is having the problem and what are the current solutions. The role of early adopters and their influence on the acceptance process was emphasized by M. Shashi. The discussion included examples of finding a product-market fit like Dr. M. Shashi's air car. Dr. M. Shashi presented a design and detailed analysis of the challenges he faced in the ready-to-serve-to-market. His innovative venture air car design introduced different modifications under Workshop on Research Design and Planning' 16th September 2023 one roof. Dr. M. Shashi informed the audience about the different modifications which markets needs and history of few classical brands. The aforesaid example of his own brand led Dr. M. Shashi to explain the "concept to reality" process of the prototype in five steps. All this while, Dr. M. Shashi did not forget to give examples from other industries which made the webinar very effective. The formation, validation, and growth as the broader steps of the new product development were demonstrated quite efficiently through the presentation slides. The webinar had a question-answer section at the end and the students asked various questions. The array of questions asked by students reflected the enthusiasm and curiosity of the young minds. The event concluded with a vote of thanks for the esteemed speaker, Dr. Dr. Dileep Kumar Reddy Pallala and the Head of IIC at NRCM Hyderabad.
